

Kiran Shah's Fun with Puppets The Puppetry Workshop

Looking for ways to make language and literacy learning enjoyable for young children?

Join Kiran Shah for a fun-filled interactive workshop on working with puppets.

This workshop is for any adult involved with young children as well as for the child within you. So come to have fun and take back a bagful of easy-to-implement ideas.

This workshop will equip you with the following skills -

- You will be guided in using a variety of puppets (both in size and form) from UK and Australia to enhance children's language skills and overall development.
- Learn to make your puppets come alive with movement and use of the voice.
- You will be listening to some stories and also creating your very own using these puppets.
- You will learn performance tips and practice as well as a brief overview on the benefits of using puppets

Kiran Shah

Kiran Shah has worn many hats. She has taught preschoolers in many countries (U.S., Singapore, Japan and Sri Lanka) and has trained adults in Singapore, Indonesia, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Vietnam and Myanmar since 1993.

She is also a professional storyteller who's performed in festivals in Australia, Indonesia, and Scotland.

She embarked on yet another journey in 2008 living in the scenic Blue Mountains in Australia while continuing her storytelling career.

She catches up with family and friends at least once a year (not to mention her favourite foods) so don't miss this exciting and enchanting workshop!!
