

IQ Assessment

Understanding Children's Cognitive abilities & helping them to reach their goals and objectives

MOE-Recognised Intellectual (IQ) Assessment

Do you want your child's intellectual abilities be assessed by a qualified psychologist and recognised by the Singapore's Ministry of Education (MOE) and globally?

Our MOE-recognised intelligence assessments provide parents unusual access to understanding the highly complex cognitive abilities of their children, aged 3 years and above, and insights into ways to support their gifting. Of all the opportunities parents provide to support their children's strengths and promote their interests, IQ assessments offer invaluable insight into the child's needs and a road map for the future. This is the primary purpose of IQ assessment rather than simply to obtain an IQ score.

A full-scale IQ test would have the following features:

- Evaluation of verbal and non-verbal reasoning abilities, as well as working memory and processing speed.
- Completion of tasks via oral or written means.
- Usage of manipulatives or pictures for some tasks.

Upon completion, parents will receive a detailed psychological report that is both recognised by the Singapore's Ministry of Education and many schools/organisations worldwide.
